

TheVillajizz.com

Website Overview:

Will introduce viewers to The Villajizz, a fictitious retirement community based in southern Florida. A parody based off the actual Villages retirement community located in Florida.

Built off complete fiction and parody, The Villajizz is a retirement community like none other. Sicko Inc. the global corporation behind the communities development helped the retirees who lost much of their land during the world floods of the 2050's. After the receding waters an Eden became the prize jewel of the Union, 5,000 square miles of prime-time island living.

The website is available in both mobile and desktop versions.

Introduction:

From the start page viewers will get their first glimpse of the 'Discover, Eden, Again' video at the top of the page. The video includes an assortment of photos of old men and young girls in an array of different scenarios. Viewers will also see pokesman, Clef Jizzstein who will have a DISCLAIMER for viewers to read.

DISCLAIMER

The fictitious place known as 'The Villajizz' was created as a parody, and in NO way does this site represent or affiliate itself with the actual retirement community. If you are at the wrong website I would suggest checking your spelling in the address bar above. Otherwise, WELCOME and prepare to immerse yourself in a place where we put 'JIZZ' in the villages.- Clef

The idea behind The Villajizz came after visiting the actual retirement community known as The Villages in Florida. Talking directly to fellow residents, learning about the community, and taking an ass ton of pictures led me to believe a parody about this place needed to be made. The residents call it an Adult Disney World, so that was all I needed to boost my inspiration. -Artist WJB

From the 'Home' page viewers will be greeted with The Villajizz logo centered at the top, and the 'Discover, Eden, Again' video (running on a continuous loop) directly below that. Following the video Clef Jizzstein presents himself in full attire (to the left) announcing the DISCLAIMER for the website in a speech bubble (to the right). Below is a short writeup on ...so, How will you spend your time today?

Getting past the header viewers are presented with 6 boxes featuring:

- 1) Eighteen Holes - Lazy River image with blow-up tubes.
- 2) Recreation - An unoccupied Fuck Shack sits on the sand.
- 3) Shopping & Hookups - The Creepy Tiki sits on a grassy area.
- 4) Villa Living - A lone dock on the water with a villa style house in the background.
- 5) Adult Entertainment - The shot of a stripper pole from inside a venue.
- 6) Financial Freedom - The Villajizz National Bank with a Creep-OH! Credit Meter

On the desktop version of the site the images will zoom as you pass over them with the mouse, while the mobile version will simply just showcase the image with no effect.

The next item featured on the homepage is 'The Villajizz Podcast' with Clef Jizzstein. This section is the only place where viewers can hear Clef as he introduces viewers to the properly pronounced website, The Villajiiiiizzzz!

Finally at the bottom of the page viewers will get an indepth look at the island of The Villajizz and a layout of it's different highlighted 6 box features. Included on the island and not highlighted in the 6 box features is 'Pleasure Gardens', and 'Jizzz..zzz... Drip Falls'.

In the footer viewers get the Copyright information and two links directing them to the 18 U.S.C 2257 and Legal Notice pages of the site as well as an outside link directing them to The Villajizz Facebook page.
